

RICHARD D. LUMSDEN

1938 - 1997

Parasitology • Molecular and Cell Biology • Electron Microscopy

- Winner of highest world award for parasitology
- Dean of Graduate School at Tulane University; published hundreds of papers, trained 30 PhDs
- Ejected from faculty after his dynamic conversion to Christ and creationism
- Directed ICR Biology Department 1990 - 1996

“He had a very vibrant testimony of his conversion only a few years ago and of the role that one of his students played in confronting his evolutionism with persistent and penetrating questions. He became convinced of the bankruptcy of his beliefs and realized that the only reasonable alternative was that there must be a Creator.”

– Dr. Henry M. Morris

“With flesh protesting every inch of the way, I found myself walking forward, down to the altar. And there, found God! Truly, at that moment, I came to know Him, and received the Lord Jesus Christ as my Lord and Savior.”

– Dr. Richard Lumsden